PART IV.

Bill of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Report of the Select Committee, together with the Bill as amended by them, is by order of the President published for general information:—

WE, the undersigned members of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to whom the Bill to authorize the making and to regulate the working of street tramways in Calcutta was referred, have the honor to make the following report:—

We have considered the communication noted in the margin, and have saved the right of existing tramways to pass across the tramways to be constructed under the Bill.

From the Master of the Mint, No. 1232, dated 17th December 1879.

We have added a clause prohibiting a tramway from being opened to the public without a certificate from the Engineer to the Municipality that the roadway is fit for working. We have made provision that the grantees shall obstruct the ordinary traffic of the streets as little as possible.

Section 6 has been incorporated with the last part of section 5 of the amended Bill.

In section 5, now section 7, we have rendered the Lieutenant-Governor's sanction necessary to the use of steam carriages.

We have provided in section 9, now section 10, that the list of fares shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette at the expense of the grantees.

We have simplified section 20, now section 24.

To section 25, now section 28, a clause has been added prohibiting the grantees from claiming compensation owing to interruption of their traffic by the Corporation or the police.

Section 23 has been omitted as unnecessary.

We have also omitted section 28, inasmuch as the definition of grantees includes their assigns, and the powers and liabilities of the former will necessarily devolve upon the latter in the event of a sale or transfer.

We recommend that the Bill as amended be passed.

XII. The Grantees may from time to time, for the purpose of constructing and maintaining any tramways under this Act, open and break up the soil and pavement of any of the streets as defined by Bengal Act IV of 1876 (The Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act) and bridges in the town of Calcutta, and therein lay sleepers and rails, and repair, alter or remove the same; and may, for the purposes aforesaid, do in and on such streets and bridges all other acts which they shall from time to time deem necessary for constructing and maintaining their tramways, subject to the following regulations:—

1*st*.—They shall give to the Corporation notice in writing of their intention to open or break up any such street or bridge, specifying the time at which they will begin to do so, and the portion of the road proposed to be opened or broken up: such notice to be given at least three days before the commencement of the work.

2*nd*.—They shall not open or break up or alter the level of any such street or bridge except under the superintendence and to the reasonable satisfaction of the Corporation, for which superintendence the Grantees shall pay all reasonable expenses, unless the Corporation neglect to give such superintendence at the time specified in the notice, or discontinue the same during the work.

3*rd*.—They shall not, without the consent of the Corporation, open or break up at any one time a greater length than a quarter of a mile on any one line of tramway.

4*th*.—They shall, with all convenient speed, and in all cases within six weeks at the most, unless the Corporation otherwise consent in writing, complete the work for which the said street or bridge shall be broken up, and fill in the ground, and make good the surface, and, to the satisfaction of the Corporation, restore the street or bridge to as good a condition as that in which it was before it was opened or broken up, and clear away all surplus materials or rubbish occasioned thereby.

5*th*.—They shall in the meantime, when such street or bridge is opened or broken up, cause it to be fenced and watched, and to be properly lighted at night.

6*th*.—They shall make good all damage done to the gas and water-pipes and sewers, whether belonging to the Corporation or to private individuals by the disturbance thereof.

7*th*.—If by any such operations as aforesaid the Grantees interrupt the supply of water or gas in or through any main or main pipe, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 200 for every day upon which such supply shall be so interrupted.

Grantees to keep the tramway roads in proper repair.

XIII. The Grantees shall, at their own expense, at all times maintain and keep in good condition and repair, in such manner as the Corporation shall direct, the rails of which any of their tramways shall for the time being consist, and so much of any street or bridge as lies between the rails of any tramway; and in the case of double lines or turnouts or sidings, the portion of the road between the tramways, and in every case so much of the road as extends eighteen inches beyond the rails of and on each side of any such tramway; and in the course of carrying out such repairs, it shall not be necessary to give notice thereof to the Corporation.

Grantees not to obstruct ordinary traffic.

XIV. In exercising the powers given to them by the last two preceding sections, the Grantees shall arrange their work so as to afford the least possible obstruction to the ordinary traffic of the streets, and so as to admit of as free and unrestricted entry at all times into the sewers through the man holes and lamp holes for the time being in use, as is possible under the circumstances, and also so as to enable proper repairs to be made to water or gas-pipes by the direction of the Corporation.

Reservation of right of public to use roads.

XV. Nothing in this Act, or in any bye-law made under this Act, shall take away or abridge the right of the public to pass along or across every or any part of any road along or across which any tramway is laid, whether on or off the tramway with carriages not having flange wheels or wheels suitable to run on a grooved rail.

Saving of Port Commissioners' tramways.

XVI. Nothing in this Act, or in any bye-law made under this Act, shall interfere with the right of the Port Commissioners, or of any other body or person entitled at the time of the commencement of this Act to work and maintain a tramway to pass across any tramway constructed under this Act with carriages having flange wheels or wheels suitable to run on a grooved rail.

Right of user only.

XVII. Notwithstanding anything in this Act contained the Grantees shall not acquire or be deemed to acquire, any right other than that of user of any road along or across which they lay any tramway.

Penalty for failure of grantees to comply with provisions of this Act.

XVIII. If the Grantees fail in any respect to comply with the provisions of sections 5, 6, 7, 12, 13 and 14 of this Act, they shall for every such offence (without prejudice to the enforcement of specific performance of the requirements of this Act, or to any other remedy against them) upon complaint of the Corporation or if any person injuriously affected thereby, be liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 200, and to a further penalty not exceeding Rs. 50 for each day during which any such failure continues after the first day on which such penalty is incurred.

Penalty for obstructing Grantees in the exercise of their power.

XIX. If any person wilfully obstructs any person acting under the authority of the Grantees in the lawful exercise of their powers in setting out or making, laying down, repairing or renewing a tramway, or injures or destroys any mark made for the purpose of setting out the line of the tramway, he shall for every offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees, and shall also be liable to pay such damages as may be awarded in respect of such injury by any competent court.

Penalty for interfering with tramway.

XX. If any person without lawful excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on him) wilfully does any of the following things, namely—

Interferes with, removes or alters any part of a tramway of the Grantees, or of the works connected therewith:

does or causes to be done anything in such a manner as to obstruct any carriage using the tramways; or knowingly aids or assists in the doing of such thing; he shall for every such offence be liable (in addition to any proceedings by way of criminal charge or otherwise to which he may be subject) to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees.

Penalty for avoiding payment of proper fare.

XXI. If any person travelling or having travelled in any carriage of the Grantees avoids or attempts to avoid payment of his fare, or if any person having paid his fare for a certain distance knowingly and wilfully proceeds in any such carriage beyond such distance and does not pay the additional fare for the additional distance, or attempts to avoid payment thereof, or if any person knowingly and wilfully refuses or neglects, on arriving at the point to which he has paid his fare, to quit such carriage, every such person shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten rupees.

Servant of Grantees may arrest persons avoiding payment of fare.

XXII. It shall be lawful for any servant of the Grantees, and all persons called in by him for his assistance, to arrest and take to the nearest police-station any person who shall be discovered either in or after committing or attempting to commit any such offence as in the last preceding section mentioned, and whose name and residence is refused by him and is unknown to such servant or person, and the police officer in charge of the said police-station, on receiving a complaint that an offence under this Act has been committted, shall adopt such legal measures as may be necessary to cause the said person to be taken before a Magistrate with the least possible delay.

Carriage of dangerous or offensive goods.

1st.—They shall give to the said Corporation notice in writing of their intention to open or break up any such street or bridge specifying the time at which they will begin to do so, and the portion of the road proposed to be opened or broken up; such notice to be given at least three days before the commencement of the work.

2nd.—They shall not open or break up or alter the level of any such street or bridge except under the superintendence and to the reasonable satisfaction of the Corporation, for which superintendence the Grantees or their assigns shall pay all reasonable expenses unless the Corporation neglect to give such superintendence at the time specified in the notice, or discontinue the same during the work.

3rd.—They shall not, without the consent of the said Corporation, open or break up at any one time a greater length than a quarter of a mile on any one line of Tramway.

12. In exercising the powers given to them by Clauses 10 or 11, the said Grantees shall arrange their work so as to afford the least possible obstruction to the ordinary traffic of the streets, and so as also to admit of as free and unrestricted entry at all times into the sewers through the man-holes and lamp-holes for the time being in use, as is possible under the circumstances, and also so as to enable proper repairs to be made to water or gas pipes by the direction of the Corporation.

13. If the said Grantees shall commit any breach of Clauses 10 or 11 or 12, it shall be lawful for the said Corporation in their discretion where such breach shall be in the execution of any work or repairs at any time after seven days' notice to the said Grantees themselves to do and execute such work or repairs, and the expense incurred by the said Corporation in so doing, including the cost of superintendence, shall be repaid to them by the said Grantees, together with interest at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, and the certificate of the Engineer of the said Corporation as to such cost shall be conclusive.

14. If any person or persons sustain any loss or damage by reason of any defect or want of repairs in any of the plant, rolling-stock or other properties of the said Grantees or by reason of any carelessness, neglect, or misconduct of their agents or servants in the management, construction or use of the said tramways or any portion thereof, or in the exercise of the powers given by Clauses 10 or 11, the same shall be made good by the said Grantees, and in the event of any suit being instituted against the said Corporation in respect of any of the matters hereinbefore mentioned, the said Grantees shall, within fourteen days from receipt of a notice thereof from the said Corporation, settle the same; but if the said Grantees choose to defend such suit, they shall be at liberty to do so upon their undertaking to indemnify the said Corporation against all losses, damages, and expenses in respect thereof: Provided always that if the said Grantees fail to settle such suit or to indemnify the said Corporation, as is hereinbefore provided, it shall be lawful for the said Corporation to settle the same without any consent or concurrence on the part of the said Grantees, and the sum which they shall have to pay in making such settlement together with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum from the date of payment, and with all expenses, which they may be put to, shall be recoverable as a debt from the said Grantees.

15. If at any time after the opening of any tramway for traffic the said Grantees shall discontinue the working of such tramway or any part thereof for the space of six calendar months (such discontinuance not being occasioned by circumstances beyond the control of the Grantees), it shall be lawful for the Corporation, without any previous notice to the said Grantees, to remove the tramway or part thereof so discontinued, and the said Grantees shall pay to the Corporation the cost of such removal and of the making good of such street or bridge through which the said tramway shall have been made, and the certificate of the Engineer of the said Corporation as to such cost shall be conclusive.

16. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary; and if the result of such inquiries in the case of any candidate should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India; and if already selected, will be removed from the position of a probationer.

Should any of the selected candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case the candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected candidate. A selected candidate declining to accept the appointment which may be offered to him will be disqualified for any subsequent competition.

Letter from the Government of Bombay, No. 6461, dated 2nd December 1879.

RESOLUTION.—By its letter No. 145, dated the 23rd May 1878, the Government of India, acting upon the recommendation in paragraph 217 of the Report of the Madras Salt Commission, prohibited the allowance of wastage on salt exported from Madras ports into other parts of British India.

2. The Government of Madras has now pointed out that, in the Bombay Presidency, wastage is allowed on exports of salt to Calcutta, and that the procedure should be the same in both Presidencies. On this reference, the question arose whether the Bombay system should be discontinued, or extended to Madras. The authorities in Bombay are strongly in favor of its continuance; and the Governor General in Council is of opinion that the arguments in support of the system are valid, and that injury to the trade would result from its abandonment: as worked in Bombay, it does not appear to involve any risk to the Revenue. The main features of the Bombay system are as follows :—

(1.)—Full duty, at Bombay rates, is levied on the salt sold, before removal from the works, with an allowance of 5 per cent. for wastage.

(2.)—On shipment, the salt is re-weighed, and full duty on the quantity by which the re-weighment may fall short of the first weighment, recovered from the wastage allowance.

(3.)—The Customs authorities in Calcutta levy the difference between the Bengal and Bombay rates of duty on 95 per cent. of the salt removed from the works, and full Bengal duty on any excess landed.

(4.)—Wastage is allowed only on salt shipped in square-rigged vessels at Bombay and Kurrachee for export to Calcutta.

3. The Governor General in Council authorises the extension of this system to shipments of salt from Bombay and Kurrachee to the port of Madras and to any other ports in the Madras Presidency where, in the opinion of His Grace the Governor in Council, the Preventive Establishments are maintained on such a footing that no loss to the revenue may be apprehended from their inefficiency or dishonesty.

4. In connection with the question thus, provisionally, settled, the Governor General in Council has reviewed the present practice by which duty is levied in advance on salt shipped from Bombay to other parts of British India.

5. It appears to the Government of India that the advantages claimed for this precaution are more than counterbalanced by the heavy burden which it imposes upon the salt trade. Public policy requires that no restrictions, which can be dispensed with without danger to the revenue, should be placed upon the movement of salt: the duty is necessarily a heavy weight on the trade, and any fiscal arrangement that aggravates the burden is primâ facie a grave evil.

6. The prepayment of duty in Bombay does not seem to be essential for the protection of the revenue, which may be adequately safe-guarded by the exaction of a bond before the removal of the salt.

7. His Excellency in Council has accordingly resolved that duty need not, in future, be levied on salt removed in bags, for shipment, by a square-rigged vessel from Bombay or Kurrachee to Calcutta, Madras, or such other ports in the Madras Presidency as may be named by the Government of that Presidency, and that, subject to the reservation in paragraph 8, such shipment shall be permitted under the following Rules :—

(i)—Before salt is thus removed for shipment, the owner shall bind himself to pay duty, at the rate at which duty is levied upon salt at the port of export, upon any weight by which the salt may, on weighment into the vessel, be found to fall short of the weight removed for shipment.

(ii)—The owner shall also bind himself to pay duty at the rate at which duty is levied upon salt at the port of import on all the salt actually discharged at such port and on all the deficiency in weight in excess of the authorised allowance for wastage.

(iii)—The whole cargo shall be hypothecated under the bond, which shall further provide for the delivery of the cargo at the port of import by a fixed date.

8. The Customs authorities at the port of shipment may, at their discretion, require the bond of some second person of substance, or even withhold the privilege of shipment under bond in any case in which they may find sufficient reason for doing so. But, as salt thus shipped under bond cannot be consumed without the payment of duty, the deposit of Government paper as security will not, ordinarily, be necessary, and no other such onerous conditions should be imposed as to neutralise the advantage to the trade of the present concession, which the Customs authorities should carefully endeavour to secure for it.

9. Duty may, however, be levied as at present, if the owner of the salt voluntarily prefers so to pay it, to binding himself under the rules contained in paragraph 7.

ORDERED, that the foregoing Resolution be published in the Gazette of India, and forwarded, for information and guidance, to the Governments of Madras, Bombay, and Bengal.

The 10th January 1880.

V.—If the net earnings of the whole calendar year exceed 4½ per cent. upon the capital cost of the railway, an additional one-half per centum, making, in such case, one per centum of the net earnings for the whole year, shall be provisionally distributed in like manner, and subject to the same conditions. Provided that the bonuses distributed among the depositors of any railway in one year or half-year shall in no case exceed the compulsory deposits on their behalf during the same period.

VI.—If the bonus calculated under Rule IV appears to the Government, in any case, insufficient, the Government of India will deal with the case specially according to its discretion; but subject always to the proviso in Rule V.

VII.—Any bonus accruing to a depositor under Rule IV, V or VI shall be added, provisionally, to his deposits; but such bonuses and all interest provisionally accruing thereon, shall be shewn in a separate column in his deposit-book, and shall be subject to the condition prescribed in Rule XIV.

(iii) with the permission of the manager, under Rule XI.

XI.—On the manager being satisfied that the pecuniary circumstances of a depositor are such that the indulgence is absolutely necessary, the compulsory deposits of the depositor, and, if they do not suffice, his bonuses, or any part of his compulsory deposits or bonuses, may be withdrawn, temporarily, to pay for the passage of the depositor or any member of his family proceeding to Europe on medical certificate, or returning after such absence, or of any member of the depositor's family coming from Europe to join him.

XII.—In addition to the compulsory deductions under Rule III, the manager shall withhold from the salary of such depositor, and deposit again in the Savings Bank, one-twentieth part of any sum withdrawn under Rule XI. Such deduction shall be made whenever full salary is drawn, until the whole is refunded.

XIII.—When a Deposit Account is first opened, the depositor shall be required to record in his deposit-book under his signature, and in his own handwriting, the names of any person or persons whom he believes to be his next-of-kin, or to whom he has bequeathed the whole or any portion of his deposits. The depositor should be invited to initial or revise this record half-yearly.

XIV.—If a depositor is dismissed from the public service, the manager may, with the sanction of the Director General of Railways, withhold all or any part of the bonuses provisionally allotted to him with the interest accrued thereon, and pay to the depositor only the balance at his credit without such bonuses and the interest thereon.

Whenever the revenue annually payable in respect of any estate, or the rent annually payable in respect of any tenure, does not exceed the sum of one hundred rupees, the Collector may, without issuing any notice for such estate or tenure—(a) in any case determine the annual value of the land comprised therein to be, in a permanently settled estate or tenure, a sum not exceeding three times, and in a temporarily-settled estate or tenure, a sum not exceeding twice the amount of the annual revenue or rent payable therefor; and (b) when the area of the said estate or tenure has been ascertained, determine the annual value of such estate or tenure to be at such rate per acre as to him shall seem fit.

13. When the land comprised in any estate or tenure has been valued by the Collector under section 11 or 12, the annual value of any portion of such land which is comprised within a subordinate tenure shall be taken to be a sum equal to the rent thereof increased by half the same multiple or fraction of such rent as that by which the annual value of the whole of such land determined as aforesaid exceeds the revenue or rent payable for the same; or shall be at the same rate per acre as the whole of such land:

Provided that the holder of any such estate or tenure may, within one month from the posting of the valuation roll in respect thereof under section 24, and the holder of such subordinate tenure may within one month from the date of the first demand made on him for payment of road cess, lodge a return in the form in the said Schedule (A) contained in regard to such estate or tenure or subordinate tenure, and thereupon the annual value of the land comprised therein shall be fixed at the amount entered in such return subject to the provisions of sections 17 and 20.

Holder of estate or subordinate tenure may lodge return.

Or the Collector may, if he think fit, cause a notice to be served in respect of any such estate or tenure in the form contained in the said Schedule (A), and thereupon all the provisions of this part shall apply in the same way as they would have applied if the annual Government revenue or rent thereof had exceeded one hundred rupees.

Or Collector may serve notice.

14. Whenever any lands have been acquired under any rules issued by or under the authority of the Government for the sale, lease, grant, or clearance of waste lands, or are held directly from Government, and are used for the cultivation of tea, coffee, or cinchona, the Collector shall, in lieu of the notice to be served under section 9, but at the time, in the manner, and under the penalties therein prescribed, cause a notice to be served calling on the holder of such lands to lodge a return in the form in Schedule (B) hereto annexed, and containing the particulars in such forms set forth; and the annual value of such lands shall be fixed at ten rupees in respect of every acre therein entered as cultivated.

Return of plantations, &c.

15. Fines under clause 2, section 9, and all costs of recovery thereof shall be recoverable as provided in section 109.

Fines how recoverable.

16. The Collector may, after the expiration of two months from the service of any notice mentioned in sections 9, 13 or 14, ascertain and fix, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, the annual value of the lands mentioned in such notice of which no return required by such notice shall theretofore have been lodged; and all expenses incurred in making such valuation may be recovered with all costs of recovery thereof in manner as is provided by section 109.

If returns not furnished, Collector to make valuation.

17. Whenever the Collector may deem that any return required by sections 9, 13, or 14 of lands for which no rent is payable by cultivating ryots to the person making such return is untrue or incorrect, he may, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of such lands; and in case the annual value of such lands so determined by him shall exceed by one-fifth the value stated in such return, the expense of such valuation shall be paid by the person by whom such return shall have been lodged, and may be recovered in manner as is provided by section 15 for the recovery of fines, and in all other cases shall be defrayed from the District Road Fund established under this Act.

If return of certain lands is untrue, Collector to make valuation.

Person returned as cultivating ryot may be served with notice.

18. The Collector may, whenever he may think fit, cause a notice in the form in the said Schedule (A) to be served on any person holding any lands or possessing any interest therein, although such person may have been mentioned in any return as a cultivating ryot; and thereupon such person shall be bound to make a return within one month from the service of such notice in the form contained in the said Schedule (A), and the provisions contained in section 9 with regard to fines and extension of time for lodging a return shall be applicable to him.

If no return made, Collector may ascertain annual value of lands.

19. If no return is made, the Collector may proceed to ascertain the annual value of the lands held by such person; and in case it appears that the annual value of the land is greater than the rent which he pays, the expense of such valuation shall be borne by such person, and may be recovered with all costs of recovery thereof in manner as is provided by section 15 for recovery of fines, and in all other cases shall be defrayed from the said District Road Fund.

False returns.

20. If the Collector shall see ground for believing that any return made under this Act other than a return mentioned in section 17 is untrue and incorrect, he may prosecute the maker of such return under section 177 of the Indian Penal Code. And if the Magistrate convict the person so prosecuted under the said section, the Collector may proceed to make a valuation of the lands mentioned in such return by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient.

Power of Collector in making valuation.

21. For the purpose of making any valuation of lands directed by this part, the Collector shall exercise the powers vested in Collectors by section 19, clause 1, section 23, clause 1, and section 24, clause 1, of Regulation VII of 1822 of the Bengal Code, except so far as the said clauses authorize any inquiry into rights or interests attaching to such lands.

Power to summon witnesses and compel production of documents.

22. For the purpose of every inquiry under this Act the Collector may summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses and compel them to give evidence and compel the production of documents by the same means, and as far as possible in the same manner, as provided in the case of a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure of 1877.

Valuation rolls to be prepared.

23. The Collector shall cause to be prepared from the returns furnished to him, and from the valuations made by him under this part, a valuation roll of each estate within his district, and of the tenures therein comprised, noting thereon the amount of revenue annually payable to Government on which the deduction specified in clause (1) of section 33 is to be calculated, and shall, on the application of any holder of an estate or tenure or of any cultivating ryot within his district, cause to be furnished to him a copy of so much of the said roll and of the returns as relate to the lands included within his estate or tenure or ryottee holding, on being paid for the same at such rate as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall from time to time determine.

Publication of rolls.

24. On the completion of every roll prescribed under this part, the Collector shall cause a copy thereof to be posted up at the mâl cutcherry of the estate to which such roll refers, and an extract from such roll of the portion thereof relating to any tenure at the mâl cutcherry thereof: provided that if no mâl cutcherry be found, some conspicuous places on the said estate and tenure shall be selected instead.

Procedure to be followed when there is a partition.

25. The procedure prescribed by the last two preceding sections shall be followed whenever a re-distribution of the valation is made in consequence of a partition as contemplated in section 26.

General valuation to be in force for five years.

26. Every valuation under this part shall remain in force for the term of five years from the date fixed as hereinbefore provided for the several cesses leviable in pursuance thereof to take effect and until a new valuation and assessment shall have been completed:

Distribution of valuation in case of partition.

Provided that in case of partition under Regulation XIX of 1814 or Bengal Act VIII of 1876 of an estate after valuation, and while such valuation remains in force, the total valuation of the old estate shall be distributed proportionately under the order of the Collector over the newly-formed estates, whereupon the newly-formed estates shall, for the purpose of this Act, take the place of the old estate, the liability to pay road cess of each newly-formed estate being separate and distinct, and no liability being incurred by any one of the newly-formed estates on account of the default of another;

Provided also that if any arrear of road cess is due from the old estate when the order for partition is passed, all the newly-formed estates shall be jointly and severally liable for the same.

Collector may reduce amount of cess.

27. Nothing in the last preceding section shall be held to debar the Collector, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue from making any reductions which he may think fit in the amount of cess for which any estate or tenure may be liable.

Power after five year to make new valuation

28. After the expiration of the five years from the time of the valuation of any district, part of a district, estate or tenure, or at any time within twelve months previous to such expiration, the Collector may cause new valuation rolls under this part to be prepared for such district or part of a district or for particular estates only, to take effect from the commencement of any cess year commencing after the expiration of the said five years, and for that purpose may cause such proclamations and notices to be issued and served, and such returns to be made, as are hereinbefore directed, and shall have such powers and authorities as are in this part conferred.

Appeals against valuation.

29. Every person who shall deem himself to be aggrieved by any valuation to be made by any Collector under the provisions of section 17 may, within one month after the posting up of a copy of such roll as abovementioned, appeal to the Commissioner of the division against such valuation, and the decision of such Commissioner shall be final and conclusive.

Orders for levy of fine appealable.

30. Every order for the levy of a fine or of expenses passed by a Collector under this Act shall be appealable to the Commissioner of the Division within one month from the service of the first process for the levy of such fine or expenses. Pending such appeal, and until the order of the Commissioner which shall be final, all process for such levy shall be discontinued.

Assessment and payment.

Maximum rate.

31. From and after the commencement of this Act in any district, or part of a district, all lands in such district or part thereof shall be liable to the payment of a road cess and a public works cess at the following rates :—

in the case of public works cess, at such rate per annum not exceeding one-half of an anna in the rupee of the annual value of such lands as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may, by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette, from year to year determine.

Effect of opening separate account under Act XI of 1859

32. When a recorded sharer of a joint revenue-paying estate has opened a separate account under Act XI of 1859 or under section 70 of Bengal Act VII of 1876 for the payment of revenue, he shall be entitled, in regard to the payment and realization of road cess and public works cess under this Act, to all the advantages of separate liability enjoyed by him under the said Act XI of 1859 and Bengal Act VII of 1876 in regard to the payment and realization of revenue, and shall be entitled to separate assessment and to the issue of separate notices under this Act. This section shall apply from the date of the opening of such accounts to the recorded proprietors of estates in respect of which such separate accounts may be opened while the valuation of the estate is in force under section 26.

Mode of payment of road cess and public works cess by zemindar.

33. (1)—Every holder of an estate shall yearly pay the entire amount of the road cess and public works cess calculated on the annual value of the lands comprised in such estate, at the rates at which the said cesses may be fixed respectively under this Act, less a deduction to be calculated at one-half of the said rates for every rupee of the revenue entered in the valuation roll of such estate as payable in respect thereof.

By holder of tenure.

(2)—Every holder of a tenure shall yearly pay to the holder of the estate or tenure within which the land held by him is included the entire amount of the road cess and public works cess calculated on the annual value of the land comprised in his tenure at the rates at which the said cesses may be fixed respectively under this Act, less a deduction to be calculated at one-half of the said rates for every rupee of the rent paid by him for such tenure.

By cultivating ryot.

(3)—Every cultivating ryot shall pay to the person to whom his rent is payable one-half of the said road cess and public works cess calculated upon the rent payable by him or upon the annual value, ascertained under the provisions of section 16 of the land held by him.

Notice showing amount of cess payable to be served on zemindars

34. When the rate of road cess and public works cess to be levied in any district shall have been determined for any year by the District Committee and the Lieutenant-Governor respectively, the Collector shall cause to be served on the holder of every estate within the district a notice showing the amount of road cess and public works cess payable by such holder, and specifying the date from which such road cess and public works cess shall take effect: provided that it shall not be necessary to serve such a notice when no change has been made in the valuation of the estate or in the rate of road cess or public works cess since the issue of the last notice under this section.

Time of payment by zemindars.

The said holder shall pay the amount of such road cess and public works cess to the said Collector, by equal instalments, on the several days fixed for the payment of the instalments of the Government revenue due in respect of his estate, if revenue be payable thereon; and if no revenue be payable thereon, then upon such days as shall be for that purpose appointed by any order of the Lieutenant-Governor made under the provisions hereinafter contained.

Times of payment from subordinate tenures.

35. The payment for road cess and public works cess by the holder of a tenure, or by a cultivating ryot, shall be made in the proportion of the instalments of rent payable in respect of such tenure or ryottee holding; and if no rent be payable in respect thereof, then by two equal half-yearly instalments, upon such days as shall be for that purpose appointed by any order of the Lieutenant-Governor made under the provisions hereinafter contained.

Recovery by holders of estates or tenures.

36. Every holder of an estate or tenure to whom any sums may be payable under the provisions of this Act may recover the same in the same manner and under the same penalties as if the same were arrears of rent due to him in respect of the land in respect of which such sums may be payable. And any shareholder in an estate or tenure, who may have paid the road cess or public works cess payable in respect of such estate or tenure, may recover from his co-sharers such sums as may be payable in respect of their shares as arrears of rent; or may take credit for such sums in any adjustment of accounts between himself and his co-sharers.

37. All lands held without payment of rent other than lands mentioned in section 14, and not being estates entered on the General Register of revenue-free lands of the district, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they may be included, and if they be not included within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included, and if they be not included within the local boundaries of any estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal, appoint. And road cess and public works cess in respect of such lands shall be payable by the holder of the estate or tenure of which they are deemed to form a part, and shall be recoverable under the provisions of section 109 if due to the Collector; or under the provisions of section 36 if due to any other person: Provided that if the cess for such lands is not paid to the holder of the estate or tenure by the due date, the holder of the estate or tenure shall be entitled to recover from the holder of such land an additional sum equal to double the amount of the cess with all costs of suit. Or such lands may, if the Collector shall see fit, be entered on a separate register to be kept for the purposes of this Act, as hereinafter provided, by the Collector, and thereupon road cess and public works cess shall be payable thereon and shall be recoverable in respect thereof as if the same were an estate.

Payment for certain lands for which no rent is paid

38. The person to whom any sum shall, under the provisions of the last preceding section, have been directly paid by the holder of any tenure or tenures for which no rent is paid, may retain one-fourth thereof as and for his remuneration for costs and risk of collecting the same.

Remuneration for collecting cess for certain lands for which no rent is paid.

39. The separate register referred to in section 37 shall be called the register of claims to rent-free tenures, and it shall be lawful for the Collector of any district, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, to issue a proclamation which shall be published in the manner described in section 8.

Collector may issue proclamation.

40. Such proclamation shall require all persons who claim to be in actual rent-free possession of any lands in the district, other than lands already assessed to the road and public works cess as being borne on Register B, the General Register of revenue-free lands, to appear within two months at the cutcherry of the Collector, or at such other place or places as may be specified in the proclamation, and state in writing the approximate area of such lands, the number of plots of which they consist, and the mouzah or mouzahs, and thana or thanas in which each plot is situate.

Contents of proclamation.

41. The Collector shall enter the above details in the register of claims to rent-free tenures, but such registration shall only be binding against the claimant, and shall be evidence only of the fact of such claim having been made. Should the right to hold rent-free or the fact of the claimants being in possession be questioned in a competent court, registration will be no bar to a suit being brought at any time to contest the claim.

Effect of registration.

42. Should any objection to a claim be made before the Collector, he will not adjudicate on the objection, and if rival claims to be in actual rent-free possession of the same lands are preferred, he may register both or all such claims.

Collector not to decide objections.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

DURING the eight years that the Road Cess Act of 1871 has been in force a few points of importance have come to light on which it requires amendment.

The opportunity is taken of repealing the Provincial Public Works Act, 1877, and of consolidating into one Act the law relating to the road cess and to the provincial public works cess, both of which are assessed on the same principle, and levied according to the same procedure and by the same machinery.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Order issued by authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL.

No. 2, dated the 6th January 1880.

THE attention of the officers presiding in the Civil and Revenue Courts in the Lower Provinces of Bengal and Assam is called to the rules * * * * * * made by the Court under Clause 1, Section 20 of the Court Fees Act, 1870, authorizing the levy of boat-hire and ferry tolls in certain cases in addition to the process fees payable on civil processes.

* Published at page 1179 of the Calcutta Gazette of 26th November, and at page 711 of the Assam Gazette of 20th December 1879.

2. These rules supersede paragraph 5 of circular order No. 31, dated 25th September 1867,† and the rules relating to the levy of boat-hire and ferry tolls in respect of notices of appeal issued by the High Court. In future such charges will be realized by the Court to which the notices are sent for service.

† Renewed by Circular Order No. 13, dated 12th May 1874.

CIVIL AND CRIMINAL.

No. 5, dated the 10th January 1880.

THE attention of the Court has recently been drawn to more than one instance in which Magistrates have held trials on Sundays. It has not hitherto been deemed necessary to enter Sundays in the published lists of close holidays, as no such recognition of the general practice of closing the Civil and Criminal Courts on these days appeared to be necessary. Cases must no doubt occur in which an enquiry by a Magistrate should proceed even on a Sunday, or gazetted holiday, but, without the consent of parties, and in the absence of urgent necessity, no civil or criminal trial should proceed on such days.

CIVIL.

No. 6, dated the 10th January 1880.

THE attention of all officers presiding in Civil Appellate Courts in the Lower Provinces of Bengal and Assam is invited to the notification, copy of which is appended to this circular order, issued by the Government of India under date the 22nd November last.

2. It will be observed that while the fee payable on appeals from certain orders issued under section 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure is limited to the amount chargeable under article 11, Schedule II of the Court Fees Act, cases may occur in which, under the ordinary rules for the valuation of appeals from decrees, the fee payable may be less than this amount. Further, the notification does not cover the case of appeals from orders rejecting plaints, nor of appeals in certain miscellaneous cases, such as Certificate and Probate cases.

Notification by the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 3967, dated Simla, the 22nd November 1879.

WHEREAS certain orders issued by the Civil Courts under section 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1877, have been declared to be "decrees" by Section 2 of Act XII of 1879:—

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 35 of the Court Fees Act, 1870, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the court fee payable on appeals from such orders issued under section 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be limited to the amounts chargeable under Article 11, Schedule II of the Court Fees Act.

RULE made by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal under the provisions of section 6 of the Legal Practitioners' Act XVIII of 1879.

Any person who immediately prior to the 1st January 1880 was in practice as a Mookhtar in the Calcutta Small Cause Court, and was recognized as such by the Judges of that Court, may be admitted as a Mookhtar by the High Court, with liberty to practise in the said Small Cause Court.

2. Persons qualified for admission under the above rule shall apply to the proper officer of the Small Cause Court, and their applications shall be forwarded, with the certificate of the Judges that the applicant is a person to whom the rule applies, to the High Court.

NOTIFICATIONS.—JUDICIAL.

Fort William, the 16th January 1880.

No. 223 E.-P.—The following extract from the London Gazette, dated 31st October 1879, is published for general information :—

Foreign Office, October 30, 1879.

Declaration between the British and French Governments prolonging the duration of the existing Treaties of Commerce and Navigation between Great Britain and France.

Signed at Paris, October 10, 1879.

THE Government of Her Britannic Majesty and the Government of the French Republic, foreseeing the case in which the commercial and maritime relations between Great Britain and France should not have been settled by fresh arrangements before the 31st December, 1879, the period at which the existing Commercial Treaties and Conventions are to expire, and wishing to secure for the manufacturers and merchants of both countries a sufficient delay to conclude the operations in course of execution,—

Have agreed to prolong, for a period of six months before their definitive termination, the Conventional Acts in force between Great Britain and France.

Considering, besides, that, according to the terms of the Law passed in France on the 4th August last, which confers on the Government of the Republic the power of prolonging the Commercial Treaties and Conventions, the duration of their prolongation cannot exceed six months from the promulgation of the new General Customs Tariff submitted to the approbation of the French Chambers,—

The High Contracting Parties agree that the stipulated delay of six months shall commence from the day either anterior or posterior to the 1st January, 1880, on which the new General Customs Tariff shall have been promulgated.

The benefit of the prolongation shall apply to the Conventional Acts enumerated hereafter, that is to say :—

1. Treaty of Commerce of the 23rd January, 1860.
2. Additional Article of the 25th February 1860.
3. Second Additional Article of the 27th June, 1860.
4. First Supplementary Convention of the 12th October, 1860.
5. Second Supplementary Convention of the 16th November, 1860.
6. Treaty of Commerce and Navigation of the 23rd July, 1873.
7. Supplementary Convention of the 24th January, 1874.
8. Declaration of the 24th January, 1874.

In witness whereof, the undersigned, acting in the name of their respective Governments, have drawn up the present Declaration, and have affixed thereto the seal of their arms.

Done in duplicate, at Paris, the 10th day of October, 1879.

LE Gouvernement de Sa Majesté Britannique et le Gouvernement de la République Française prévoyant le cas où les relations commerciales et maritimes entre la Grande Bretagne et la France n'auraient pas été réglées par de nouveaux arrangements avant le 31 Décembre, 1879, époque à laquelle les Traités et Conventions de Commerce actuellement existants doivent prendre fin et désirant assurer aux industriels et aux négociants des deux pays un délai suffisant pour terminer les opérations en cours d'exécution,—

Sont convenus de proroger, pour une période de six mois avant leur cessation définitive, les Acts Conventionnels en vigueur entre la Grande Bretagne et la France.

Considérant, d'ailleurs, qu'aux termes de la Loi votée en France le 4 Août dernier, qui confère au Gouvernement de la République la faculté de proroger les Traités et Conventions de Commerce, la durée de cette prorogation ne pourra excéder six mois à partir de la promulgation du nouveau Tarif Général des Douanes soumis à l'approbation des Chambres Françaises,— Les Hautes Parties Contractantes conviennent que le delai stipulé de six mois courra à partir du jour soit antérieur soit postérieur au 1er Janvier, 1880, où le nouveau Tarif Général des Douanes de France aura été promulgué.

Le bénéfice de la prorogation s'appliquera aux Actes Conventionnels énumérés ci-après, savoir :—

1. Traité de Commerce du 23 Janvier, 1860.
2. Article Additionnel du 25 Février, 1860.
3. Second Article Additionnel du 27 Juin, 1860.
4. Première Convention Supplémentaire du 12 Octobre 1860.
5. Seconde Convention Supplémentaire du 16 Novembre, 1860.
6. Traité de Commerce et de Navigation du 23 Juillet, 1873.
7. Convention Supplémentaire du 24 Janvier, 1874.
8. Déclaration du 24 Janvier, 1874.

En foi de quoi, les Soussignés, agissant au nom de leurs Gouvernements respectifs, ont dressé la présente Déclaration, et y ont apposé le cachet de leurs armes.

Fait à Paris, en double exemplaire, le 10 Octobre, 1879.

Wenn die von der Schweizerischen Regierung verfolgte Person im Vereinigten Königreich, oder wenn die Seitens der Regierung des Vereinigten Königreiches verfolgte Person in einem Kanton der Schweiz wegen einer andern strafbaren Handlung in Untersuchung liegt oder bestraft worden ist, so kann die Auslieferung verschoben werden, bis diese Person in gehörigen Rechtsgang in Freiheit gesezt worden ist.

ARTICLE VII.

A fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered if the offence in respect of which his surrender is demanded is one of a political character, or is connected with a crime of that nature, or if he prove that the requisition for his surrender has, in fact, been made with a view to try and punish him for an offence of a political character.

Die ausgelieferte Person darf in dem Staate, an welchen die Auslieferung erfolgt ist, keinenfalls wegen einer andern strafbaren Handlung oder auf Grund anderer Thatsachen, als derjenigen, wegen deren die Auslieferung erfolgt ist, in Haft behalten oder zur Untersuchung gezogen werden.

Auf strafbare Handlungen, welche nach erfolgter Auslieferung verübt sind, findet diese Bestimmung keine Anwendung.

The requisition for the extradition of an accused person must be accompanied by a warrant of arrest issued by the competent authority of the State requiring the extradition, and by such evidence as, according to the laws of the place where the accused is found, would justify his arrest if the crime had been committed there.

Betrifft das Auslieferungsbegehren eine bereits verurtheilte Person, so muss das Strafurtheil beigebracht werden, welches von dem zuständigen Gericht des die Auslieferung begehrenden Staates gegen den Verurtheilten erlassen worden ist.

Auf Strafurtheile, welche in contumaciam erlassen worden sind, kann das Auslieferungsgesuch nicht gegründet werden.

ARTIKEL XI.

Die Auslieferung erfolgt nicht vor Ablauf von fünfzehn Tagen seit der Ergreifung und nur dann, wenn die Beweise für genügend befunden worden sind, um nach den Gesezen des ersuchten Staates entweder die Verweisung des Ergriffenen zur Hauptuntersuchung zu rechtfertigen, falls die strafbare Handlung im Gebiet dieses Staates begangen wäre, oder darzuthun, dass der Ergriffene mit der von den Gerichten des ersuchenden Staates verurtheilten Person identisch ist.

ARTICLE XII.

In the examination which they have to make in accordance with the foregoing stipulations, the authorities of the State applied to shall admit as entirely valid evidence the sworn depositions or statement of witnesses taken in the other State, or copies thereof, and likewise the warrants and sentences issued therein, provided such documents are signed or certified by a Judge, Magistrate, or Officer of such State, and are authenticated by the oath of some witness, or by being sealed with the official seal of a British Secretary of State, or of the Chancellor of the Swiss Confederation.

ARTIKEL XIV.

Alle in Beschlag genommenen Gegenstände, welche sich zur Zeit der Verhaftung der auszuliefernden Person in deren Besiz waren, sollen, wenn die zuständige Behörde des um die Auslieferung ersuchten Staates die Ausantwortung derselben angeordnet hat, bei Vollziehung der Auslieferung mit übergeben werden, und diese Ueberlieferung soll sich nicht blos auf die entfremdeten Gegenstände, sondern auch auf Alles erstreken, was zum Beweis, der strafbaren Handlung dienen kann.

ARTICLE XV.

The Contracting Parties renounce any claim for the reimbursement of the expenses incurred by them in the arrest and maintenance of the person to be surrendered, and his conveyance to the frontiers of the State from which he is required; they reciprocally agree to bear such expenses themselves.

And whereas a Protocol amending Article XVI of the aforesaid Treaty was signed by the Plenipotentiaries of Her Majesty and of the Swiss Confederation on the twenty-eighth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, which Protocol is in the following terms:—

The Undersigned Plenipotentiaries of Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Federal Council of the Swiss Confederation, having met in Conference, have taken into their consideration the following subject:—

They have directed their attention to the fact that the second paragraph of the XVIth Article of the Treaty, which stipulates that the requisition for the arrest of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in any of the Colonies or foreign possessions of Her Britannic Majesty shall be made through the Swiss Consul-General in London to the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, was not in accordance with the law of England, and they have consequently resolved to declare that the second paragraph of that Article beginning:

"The requisition for the arrest," and concluding with, "and the laws of the land," shall be null and void, and in lieu thereof the following words shall be substituted:

"The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in any of such Colonies or foreign possessions shall be made to the Governor or to the Supreme Authority of such Colony or Possession through the Swiss Consul, or, in case there should be no Swiss Consul, through the Consular Agent of another State charged for the occasion with the Swiss interests in the Colony or Possession in question.

"The Governor or Supreme Authority above mentioned shall decide with regard to such requisitions as nearly as possible in accordance with the provisions of the present Treaty. He will, however, be at liberty either to consent to the extradition or report the case to his Government"

The other provisions of Article XVI remain in force as they have been agreed upon in the Treaty.

This Protocol shall be regarded and acted upon as forming part of the Treaty in question.

In witness whereof the undersigned have signed this Protocol, and have hereunto affixed their seals.

Done in duplicate at Berne, the twenty-eighth day of November, in the year of Grace, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

The Plenipotentiary of Great Britain,

(L.S.) EDWIN CORBETT.

Die unterzeichneten Bevollmächtigten Ihrer Majestät der Königin des Vereinigten Königreichs von Grossbritannien und Irland, und des Bundesrathes der Schweizerischen Eidgenossenschaft, haben in einer Conferenz folgenden Gegenstand in Erwägung gezogen:—

Sie haben ihre Aufmerksamkeit auf die Thatsache gerichtet, dass der zweite Absaz von Artikel XVI des Vertrages, welcher bestimmt, dass das Gesuch um Verhaftung eines flüchtigen Verbrechers, welcher sich nach einer der Colonien oder auswärtigen Besizungen Ihrer Grossbritannischen Majestät gewendet hat, durch den Schweizerischen General-Konsul in London an den Staatssekretär für die auswärtigen Angelegenheiten gerichtet werden soll, mit den Gesezen Englands nicht in Einklang steht. Sie sind daher übereingekommen zu erklären, dass der zweite Absaz besagten Artikels, also beginnend:

"Der Antrag auf Verhaftung," und schliessend, "der bestehenden Geseze zu verfahren hat," null und nichtig sein, und an Stelle desselben die nachfolgenden Worte eingeschaltet werden sollen:

"Der Antrag auf Auslieferung eines flüchtigen Verbrechers, welcher in einer dieser Colonien oder auswärtigen Besizungen Zuflucht gefunden hat, soll bei dem Gouverneur oder bei der höchsten Behörde der betreffenden Colonie oder Besizung durch den in derselben residirenden Schweizerischen Consul, oder in Ermangelung eines solchen, durch den Consularagenten eines andern Staates, welchem für diesen speciellen Fall die Wahrnehmung der Schweizerischen Interessen in der fraglichen Colonie oder Besizung anvertraut wird, gestellt werden.

"Der Gouverneur oder die höchste Behörde, welche oben erwähnt sind, sollen bezüglich solcher Auslieferungsbegehren möglichst conform mit den Bestimmungen des vorliegenden Vertrages entscheiden. Es steht ihnen indess frei, die Auslieferung zu bewilligen oder den Fall ihrer Regierung zum Entscheid zu überweisen."

Die andern Punkte von Artikel XVI bleiben in der im Vertrag vereinbarten Form in Kraft.

Dieses Protokoll soll als integrirender Bestandtheil des Vertrages angesehen und beobachtet werden.

Zur Urkunde dessen haben die Unterfertigten dasselbe unterzeichnet und ihre Siegel beigesezt.

So geschehen in doppelter Ausfertigung in Bern, den achtundzwanzigsten Tag des Wintermonats im Jahre des Heils ein tausend acht hundert vier und seibenzig.

July 23rd	18	18mo. ...	1st ...	200	ditto ..	0 2 0	Sáhitya Utsáhini Sabhá, Hariná-bhi.	The author is meditating on a fair moonlit night, the beauty of which fills his mind with grief for the departed glory of India and her present destitute condition. The poet repudiates the idea, commonly entertained, that India is now poor because thieves have robbed her of everything, and attributes her misery to the worthlessness of her sons, who, unable to engage in commerce and other independent occupations, swell the ranks of keranidom.	249
July 18th	54	12mo. ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 3 0	Ashutosh Ghosh & Co., 8, Mitra's Lane, Calcutta.	Contains 100 songs on the ancient and present condition of India, calculated to rouse patriotic feelings. Ancient India is described as the land of glory and happiness; modern India as an unfortunate country which has lost its glory, its learning, its wealth, its beauty, its poetry, its happiness, its everything. This idea is expressed in various forms.	250
Aug. 4th	19	12mo. ...	1st ..	1,000	ditto ...	0 2 0	Bihárilál Gangopádháya, 55, College Street, Calcutta.	Nawáb Seraj-ud-Daulá carried off by force Satyavati, the wife of the Brahmin Gossaindás, who was under the protection of Mahárani Bhaváni. He next endeavoured to carry off the Mahárani's own daughter Tárámani, but Kumár Krishnadás secretly carried her elsewhere and thus foiled the Nawáb. The poem, says the author, is written as if in imitation of Krishnadás's letter or in his character. It extols the ancient valour and civilisation of India; deplores the past greatness of the ancient Hindus; and calls upon the Hindus to destroy the Jabanas with the help of the English.	251

The author says that if he can secure a sufficient number of subscribers for his work, he will in the next part put in the original Sanskrit with commentaries. The idea of the translator is the same as that of Bábu Ráj Krishna Ráy in his translation of the Rámayána in Bengali verse.	283

A philosophical work on such subjects as 'atoms and the formation of animal life,' 'the soul and the brain,' 'immortality,' 'the structure of the body,' 'the relation between Creator and creation,' 'the first cause,' 'divine unity,' &c. The book is intended for Hindu women who require, according to the author, new ideas in the place of those which they are discarding as false and injurious. By Sekal is meant the period between the establishment of English rule in India and the foundation of the Hindu College in Calcutta; by Ekál, the succeeding period. The writer has drawn a contrast between the Bengalis of the first period with those of the second, a contrast much in favour of the former generation.	285

A story in which some drunkards and ganja-smokers joke with and tease a gosain and some bairágis (followers of the religion of Chaitanya). The pamphlet expresses in an offensive form the feeling of contempt which the Sáktas of Bengal bear to the Baishnabas. It belongs to the street literature of Calcutta.	288

June 22nd	88	12mo. ..	1st ...	2,000	Printed	0 6 0	Jadunáth Datta...	A Baisnaba work, setting forth the glorious character of the Baisnaba sect, the spiritual greatness of the bhakta or devout lover of Baisnabism, the grandeur and glory of the name of Vishnu, &c. The Slokas, which have been explained in this volume in metrical Bengali, have been taken from Srimadbhágbata, the different puránas, the Tantras, and other sources. Devoutly read by Baisnabas for acquiring religious merit and silencing heretics.	9
„ 15th	25	8vo. ...	2nd ...	250	ditto ...	0 4 0	Not given ...	The Sáktas and Baisnabas of Bengal differ from each other in the matter of the performance of Srádddhs. The former will perform them on the tithi, called ekddasi (11th day of the dark side of the moon), but the latter will not. The observance of fasts, &c., in connection with definite tithis also gives rise to differences of opinion among them by reason of their different ways of calculating this with reference to sunrise. The object of this treatise, a reprint in an enlarged form of an earlier publication, is to establish the correctness of Baisnaba practices on these points by an examination of the texts of the Sástras bearing upon them,—the Haribhaktibilás being a work of very high authority among Baisnabas.	10

2 The rules for the establishment, management, and regulation of contractors' depôts, passed by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, under Section 4, Act VII (B.C.) of 1873, should be observed in all such depôts

3. At least twelve hours' notice must be given by the agent in charge of a depôt to the Embarkation Agent and Medical Inspector of his intention to despatch a marching party.

4. All emigrants whom it is proposed to march up from Dhubri should be paraded before the Medical Inspector and Embarkation Agent some time during the day on which it is intended to cross them over at the ferry.

The Medical Inspector will satisfy himself that they are in a fit state of health to undertake the journey, and, on his certifying that they are fit to undertake it, the Embarkation Agent will proceed to inspect the arrangements made for the journey. These are to include—

A.—Clothing for each person according to scale fixed for coolies to be embarked, except that flannel petticoats for women and pyjamas for men may be dispensed with, and an extra blanket substituted

B.—That each batch is provided with enough food according to scale for embarked coolies, for at least four meals, and that this reserve of food is always maintained during the journey.

C.—That a trustworthy person is in charge of the party capable of keeping accounts of expenditure and providing for their wants, and that he is supplied with sufficient funds for the journey, calculated at the rate of 2 annas per adult for each 10 miles of journey to be marched as far as Nowgong, and at the rate of 3 annas per day for any part of the journey beyond Nowgong.

D.—That a small supply of simple medicines and medical comforts is furnished with each batch according to scale, to be fixed by the Chief Commissioner, and that the person in charge of the party understands how to use them.

5. On the Embarkation Agent satisfying himself on the points enumerated in the preceding rule, the emigrants are to march in his presence from the depôt to the ferry, fully equipped, as provided in the said rule, and, should any cause prevent them from crossing on the day of inspection, they will return to their respective depôts, and they and their equipment shall be liable to reinspection on the day on which they actually cross.

6. A way-bill in the prescribed form shall be filled up for each body of emigrants proceeding to the same district. This document shall be placed in charge of the person in whose care the party is, and on arrival at each sudder and sub-divisional station he will produce it, along with the emigrants, for inspection by the nearest Magistrate or medical officer or other officer authorized for this purpose, who, after making such remarks on it as he may think fit, will return it to the person in charge. On the arrival of the party at their destination, the way-bill will be made over to the manager of the garden, who, after entering up all losses on the journey, and such remarks as he may think necessary, will transmit it by post to the Embarkation Agent, Dhubri. No. 36.—The 30th January 1880.—Resolution by the Government of India, Public Works Department, No. 308G, dated Fort William, the 30th January 1880.

RE-ARRANGEMENT OF ENGINEERING STAFF CONSEQUENT ON LATE REDUCTIONS.

The reductions in the Engineer Staff under the Resolution of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 2079, dated 31st July 1879, having been generally brought to a close, though it may still be necessary to give special leave to some officers of Royal Engineers when they return in considerable numbers from the Kabul Campaign, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to lay down the following bases on which to make promotions in the Engineer Establishment.

2. The scales of Executive and Assistant Engineers noted below have been arrived at on a consideration of the numerical strength of the Department under the Government of India on the 1st April last. It is found that the ratio of the number of Executive Engineers to that of Assistants was very nearly as 3 to 4, and the sanctioned scale of those classes is framed on that ratio. The numbers of Chief and Superintending Engineers were determined in Public Works Department Resolution Nos. 1506—33E.-G., dated 28th August 1879.

3. The total of the requirements of all provinces has been ascertained to be approximately as follows, and this has been accepted provisionally as the total sanctioned strength of the Engineer Staff throughout India:—

18 Chief Engineers.
46 Superintending Engineers.
356 Executive ,,
476 Assistant ,,

or a total of 896.

Deducting the number in Madras and Bombay there will be—

14 Chief Engineers.
37 Superintending Engineers.
285 Executive ,,
381 Assistant ,,

or a total of 717 officers directly under the Government of India.

These, again, divided according to provisional scales and Code rules, become as follows:—

Chief Engineers,	I Class	...	...	...	...	6
,, ,,	II ,,	...	...	...	...	4
,, ,,	III ,,	...	...	...	...	4
							14
Superintending Engineers,	1st Grade	...	...	...	...	13
,, ,,	2nd ,,	...	...	...	...	12
,, ,,	3rd ,,	...	...	...	...	12
							37
Executive Engineers,	1st Grade	...	.	.	..	55
,, ,,	2nd ,,	...	...	...	...	69
,, ,,	3rd ,,	...	...	...	...	71
,, ,,	4th ,,	...	...	..	.	90
							285
Assistant Engineers,	1st Grade	...	..	...	..	128
,, ,,	2nd and 3rd Grades and Apprentices				...	253
							381
				TOTAL	...		717

4. The following is the distribution according to provisional scales:—

PROVINCES.	Chief Engineers, I, II & III.	Superintending Engineers.	Executive Engineers.				Assistant Engineers.
			1	2	3	4	1	2 & 3
Bengal	2	6	7	9	9	11	16	32	92
North-Western Provinces and Oudh ...	2	4	9	11	11	13	20	39	109
Punjab	2	5	7	10	10	12	18	35	99
Local Administrations	2	5	9	9	10	16	19	38	108
Military Works	1	5	5	6	7	8	12	23	67
Railways	5	12	18	24	24	30	43	86	242
	14	37	55	69	71	90	128	253	717

5. The Provincial and Irrigation Branches under the respective local Governments are treated as one, in accordance with the plan laid down for ultimate adoption in paragraph 8 of Public Works Department Resolution Nos. 1500-33E.-G., dated 28th August 1879.

6. It was also originally intended that the Executive and Assistant Engineers under local administrations should be brought on one list for promotion on 1st April 1880, but in dealing practically with the reduced establishment it has been found necessary to anticipate this arrangement.

7. The strength of the establishment actually on the permanent list, compared with the provisionally sanctioned scale, is as follows:—

				Actual		Sanctioned.
Chief Engineers,	I Class	...	..	6		6
,, ,,	II ,,	...	...	4		4
,, ,,	III ,,	...	...	2		4
				—	12	—	14
Superintending Engineers,	1st Grade	...	...	13		13
,, ,,	2nd ,,	...	...	8		12
,, ,,	3rd ,,	...	...	9		12
				—	30	—	37
Executive Engineers,	1st Grade	...	...	57		55
,, ,,	2nd ,,	...	...	60		69
,, ,,	3rd ,,	...	...	62		71
,, ,,	4th ,,	...	...	74		90
				—	253	—	285
Assistant Engineers,	1st Grade	...	...	132		128
,, ,,	2nd & 3rd Grades and Apprentices		..	379		253
				—	511	—	381
				806		717
				+ 89

or 89 officers in excess of requirements, who will have to be borne on the several lists as supernumeraries.

8. The promotions therefore on the whole will be as follows:—

Superintending Engineer to Chief Engineer, III	2*
2nd Grade to 1st Grade Superintending Engineer	2
3rd Grade to 2nd Grade Superintending Engineer	6
Executive Engineer to Superintending Engineer, 3rd Grade	9†
Assistant Engineer, 1st to 4th Grade Executive	41‡

9. But before making promotions on the several lists, it is necessary to make some transfers, and to take the opportunity of removing all Civil Engineers from the Military Works Branch, and replacing them by Military Officers. Having regard however to the large number of Royal Engineer Officers of the Military Works Branch now absent on field service, the Civil Engineers of that Branch will remain temporarily attached to it until the Inspector-General can dispense with their services. The transfers are made in Notification No. 37 of this date. All transfers will have effect from 31st December 1879, and all promotions to vacancies now existing, whether arising from retirement or other casualty, will have effect from 1st January 1880.

* 14—12=2 (A).
† 37—30+2 (A)=9 (B).
‡ 285—253+9 (B)=41.

10. The promotions may be made to fill vacancies without any reference to the rule laid down in Public Works Code I, ii, 75, but all Supernumeraries in a grade must be absorbed before a promotion can be made to that grade.

11. The promotions ordered by the Governor-General in Council from Executive to Superintending Engineer, and in higher classes and grades, are published in Notification No. 38 of this date.

12. In making the promotions from the rank of Executive to Superintending Engineer, the Governor-General in Council has accepted the recommendations of the local Governments and Administrations for the appointments to the vacant posts in their Provinces: but promotions to the class having once been made, further advancement in it, and to the position of Chief Engineer, will be regulated by the Government of India on general considerations.

13. Referring to Public Works Code, Chapter I, section 2, paragraph 46, henceforward the salaries of Chief Engineers will be personal and irrespective of the post in which they may be employed. A standing order will issue correcting the Code accordingly.

14. The following changes will be required in the table of periodical returns in the Departmental Code VI, vi, 57, which will shortly be corrected by standing order. Local Administrations should submit half-yearly recommendation rolls for promotions of Executive and Assistant Engineers which will be due in this office on the 28th February and 31st August, in addition to the annual one at the head of the table which should now include recommendations for all steps above First Grade Executive Engineer, both for local Governments and Administrations. The rolls ordinarily due on 28th February next should be submitted at once to enable the Government of India to make promotions on the general list for local Administrations, and on those of the Military Works and Railway Branches.

15. The Governor-General in Council has also had under consideration the subject of temporary promotions from grade to grade within a class. The system has led to complications, and in view of the number of permanent promotions now made, His Excellency in Council has decided that there shall be no further grade to grade promotions, but temporary promotions may continue to be made from class to class under existing rules.

16. The figures in the table in paragraph 4, showing the provisionally sanctioned scales, are subject to revision as the detailed tabular statements are received and considered by the Government of India. It is not intended to allow in Provinces, Administrations, or Branches of the Department, any margin over strength of staff required to fill sanctioned appointments in the Engineer Establishment on account of absentees on furlough, &c.

17. Where the total number of officers on any list exceeds the provisionally sanctioned scale (Code I, ii, 74), those in excess, beginning at the junior officer in the lowest grade, are to be entered as Supernumeraries, and their names printed in italics at the foot of the list.

The extradition shall also take place for complicity or participation in any of the aforesaid crimes, and for any attempt to commit any such crime, provided such complicity, participation, or attempt be punishable by the laws of both the High Contracting Parties.

A extradição terá logar tambem pela cumplicidade ou participação em qualquer dos supramencionados crimes, ou pela tentativa d'esses crimes, quando a cumplicidade participação ou tentativa for punida pela lagislação das duas Altas Partes Contractantes.

(c) No British subject by birth or naturalization shall be delivered up by the Government or authorities of British India to the Government or authorities of Portuguese India; and, in like manner, no Portuguese subject by birth or naturalization shall be delivered up by the Government or authorities of Portuguese India to the Government or authorities of British India. Naturalization after the commission of the crime shall not be an obstacle to the extradition.

(d) The Governor-General of British India will, from time to time, communicate to the Governor-General of Portuguese India a list of Native States which, with the subjects thereof, are entitled to be placed, for the purposes of this Convention, upon the same footing as British India and the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty.

(e) The extradition shall not take place if the person claimed has already been tried and acquitted, or punished, for the same crime for which extradition is asked. If he should be under trial for any other crime, his extradition shall be deferred until the conclusion of the trial; and if the execution of the sentence, if any, would interfere with the extradition, it shall be postponed, in order that the extradition may take place. If upon extradition he be sentenced to other further punishment, the two High Contracting Parties shall arrange that the punishments shall be fulfilled according to priority of date of sentence.

(f) The extradition shall not take place if, after the commission of the crime, or the institution of the prosecution, or the conviction thereon, the person claimed shall have acquired exemption from prosecution, or punishment, by lapse of time, according to the laws of the State applied to.

(g) A person surrendered shall not be kept in prison, or brought to trial by the party to whom the surrender is made, for any other crime, or on account of any other matters than those for which the surrender has been granted. This stipulation is not applicable to crimes committed after the extradition.

(h) If the person whose extradition is claimed by one of the High Contracting Parties shall be also claimed by one or more other Governments, on account of crimes committed in their respective dominions, the following rule shall be observed:—

If he is a subject of the High Contracting Party who claims him, the surrender shall be made to such party. If he is not so, the other High Contracting Party shall have the power of delivering him up to the reclaiming Government which, in the case in question, may appear to the former best entitled to the preference.

(i) The requisition for extradition may be made, on behalf of Her Britannic Majesty, by the Government of British India or by the Government of the Presidency of Bombay; and, on behalf of His Most Faithful Majesty, by the Government of Portuguese India:

Provided that when the person claimed is accused of any of the above crimes, which in British India is not exclusively triable by the High Court or the Court of Session, the requisition may also be made by the Governors of the Portuguese Settlements of Damaun and Diu, for any such crime committed in such Settlements respectively, and may be preferred directly to any District Magistrate or Political Agent within whose local jurisdiction such accused person may be found. Such District Magistrate or Political Agent shall, subject to the exceptions and conditions of this Convention, and unless (c) Nenhum subdito Britannico por nascimento ou por naturalisação será entregue pelo Governo ou auctoridades da India Britannica ao Governo ou auctoridades da India Portugueza; e do mesmo modo nenhum subdito Portuguez por nascimento ou naturalisação será entregue pelo Governo ou auctoridades da India Portugueza ao Governo ou auctoridades da India Britannica. A naturalição posterior á perpetração do crime não obstará á extradição.

(d) O Governador-Geral da India Britannica communicará de tempo a tempo ao Governador-Geral da India Portugueza uma relação dos Estados Nativos que, com os seus respectivos subditos, devem ficar collocados para os fins d'esta Convenção nas mesmas condições que a India Britannica e os subditos da Sua Magestade Britannica.

(e) Não terá logar a extradição se o individuo reclamado já tiver sido processado, absolvido, ou condemnado pelo mesmo crime pelo qual se pede a extradição. Se estiver processado por outro crime, será a extradição differida até que o processo esteja ultimado; e sea execução da sentença, se a houver, impedir a extradição, será addiada a fim de que a extradição possa realizar-se. Se em consequencia da extradição for condemnado a outra pena, as duas Altas Partes Contractantes providenciarão para que as penas sejam cumpridas segundo a prioridade da data da sentença.

(f) A extradição não terá logar quando depois de commettido o crime, ou de instaurada a acção, ou da condemnação, o individuo reclamado estiver izento da acção criminal ou da pena pela prescripção na conformidade da legislação do Estado a que é pedida a extradição.

(g) O individuo entregue não será detido na prisão, nem processado pela parte a quem foi feita a entrega, por quaesquer crimes ou motivos diversos dos que serviram de fundamento á extradição. Esta disposição não é applicavel aos crimes perpetrados depois da extradição.

(h) Se o individuo cuja extradição é pedida por uma das Altas Partes Contractantes fôr igualmente reclamado por outro ou outros Governos, em consequencia de crimes perpetrados nos seus respectivos dominios, observar-se-ha o seguinte:—

Se fôr subdito da Alta Parte Contractante que o reclamar, a extradição será feita a essa Parte. Se o não fôr a outra Alta Parte Contractante terá a faculdade de o entregar ao Governo reclamante, que no caso em questão lhe pareça com mais direito á ser preferido.

(i) A reclamação de extradição poderá ser feita por parte de Sua Magestade Britannica pelo Governo da India Britannica, ou pelo Governo da Presidencia de Bombaim, e por parte de Sua Magestade Fidelissima pelo Governo da India Portugueza.

Fica entendido que, quando o individuo reclamado fôr accusado de qualquer dos supramencionados crimes cujo julgamento não seja da exclusiva competencia da High Court ou da Court of Session, a reclamação poderá igualmente ser feita pelos Governadores dos estabelecimentos Portuguezes de Damão e Diu, em razão d'esses crimes perpetrados respectivamente n'aquelles estabelecimentos; e poderá ser enviada directamente a qualquer Magistrado Districtal, ou Agente Politico, dentro de cuja jurisdicção o individuo accusado se achar. O Magistrado Districtal, ou Agente Politico instado, deferirá a esse pedido, entre-he deem reference to higher authority to be absolutely necessary, comply with such requisition by delivering up the accused.

In like manner, any District Magistrate or Political Agent may make requisition to the Government of Portuguese India, or to the Governors of Damaun and Diu respectively, for the extradition of any person found in their jurisdiction who is accused of the commission, within the local jurisdiction of such District Magistrate or Political Agent, of any of the above crimes, the maximum punishment for which, by the Portuguese Penal Code, does not exceed imprisonment for seven years or an equivalent thereto. Subject to the exceptions and conditions of this Convention, such requisition shall be complied with by the delivering up of the accused, unless reference to higher authority shall be deemed absolutely necessary.

The authority receiving a requisition may hold, or cause to be held, such inquiry as he may deem sufficient for the purpose of ascertaining the existence of primâ facie proof of facts which constitute a crime for which extradition may be granted under clause (b) of this Convention, and, in the absence of such proof, may decline to deliver up the accused person.

(j) Every requisition shall ordinarily be accompanied by the summons or warrant of arrest, or an authenticated copy thereof, issued by the competent authority of the State applying for it, and by a statement setting forth the facts of the offence, and sufficient particulars to enable the accused to be identified.

In cases of urgency, satisfactory proof of the existence of a warrant of arrest issued by competent authority may be provisionally accepted in support of a requisition.

(k) If the person claimed has not already been arrested by the authorities of the State to whom the requisition is made, such authorities shall at once proceed to secure his appearance.

(l) Any person accused of any of the above crimes, and whether a subject of the party in whose dominions or jurisdiction he is found or otherwise, may be arrested by the authorities of such dominions :—

On production of a warrant of arrest issued by the competent authority of the other party;

Or on advice, from such competent authority, transmitted by post, telegraph, or other means, stating the existence of such warrant of arrest;

Or on demand made by the Magistrate or police officer of the other party who has pursued the accused across the frontier;

Or on receipt of advice of the fact of the crime, whether communicated by a private complainant or otherwise, and whether or not the individual offender may be known or specified by name.

(m) Every such Magistrate or police officer who has pursued the accused across the frontier shall be entitled to the protection and assistance of the Magistrates and police officers of the State to whose dominions or jurisdiction the accused has fled. They shall forthwith take up the pursuit, and, without waiting for the orders of higher authority, shall make all necessary searches, inquiries, pursuits, arrests, and recoveries of stolen property, in accordance with the local law of criminal procedure.

gando o accusado, salvo as excepções e condições d'esta Convenção, e a menos que julgue, absolutamente necessario submetter o caso á auctoridade superior.

Qualquer Magistrado Districtal, ou Agente Politico, pode igualmente reclamar do Governo da India Portugueza, ou dos Governadores de Damão e Diu respectivamente, a extradição de qualquer individuo que se achar dentro da sua jurisdicção, accusado de haver commettido dentro da jurisdicção local d'esse Magistrado Districtal, ou Agente Politico, qualquer dos supramencionados crimes cuja maxima pena, pelo Codigo Penal Portuguez, não exceda a prisão por sete annos, ou o equivalente. Sujeita ás excepções e condições d'esta Convenção, essa reclamação será satisfeita entregando o accusado, salvo de julgar absolutamente necessario submetter o caso á auctoridada superior.

A Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 92, dated the 24th July 1879, forwarding, for consideration, the recommendations made by a Court of Enquiry at Bombay, to the effect, that native craft should be compelled to carry lights, and conform in other respects to the regulations laid down for the navigation of British sailing vessels, and that all nákhudas of small vessels, and, in the case of larger vessels, the mates also, should be required to hold certificates of competency.

RESOLUTION.—In the Resolution of the 13th September 1878 the Government of India discussed the following matters referring to—

(I)—the exhibition of lights by vessels in ports;

(II)—the exhibition of lights by vessels under weigh beyond port limits;

(III)—(a) the means to be adopted to secure a proper supply of lights in all vessels,

(b) the means to be adopted to secure that masters and mates of native craft shall possess a competent knowledge of the rules regarding the exhibition of lights and the rule of the road at sea;

(IV)—the enforcement of the rules regarding lights by foreign vessels.

And the local maritime Governments were asked—

(a) to report, in regard to the second matter, how far the port rules at present in force in each province conform to the regulations of the Board of Trade in respect of lights other than anchor lights, and

(b) to give an opinion on point III (b), viz., the means to be adopted for securing that the commanders and officers of native craft shall possess a competent knowledge of the rules regarding the exhibition of lights, and of the rule of the road at sea.

2. With regard to the first matter, it was stated in the Resolution cited that the local Governments had made their port rules, passed under the Indian Ports Act XII of 1875, conform as regards lights for ships at anchor to Article 7 of the Regulations of the Board of Trade for preventing collisions at sea. From the replies now received to the enquiry made under head (II), it appears that the local port rules (except in Calcutta where they are substantially in harmony with those of the Board) do not conform to the Regulations in respect of lights, other than anchor lights. The Governor General in Council requests that the local Governments will now publish the Regulations of the Board appended to the Order in Council of the 9th January 1863, and enforce their strict observance by all vessels. These Regulations will, however, be superseded from the 1st September 1880 by a revised set issued with the Order in Council, dated the 14th August 1879, of which copies are herewith forwarded. From that date they should be adopted and enforced in all British Indian ports, and His Excellency in Council desires that steps may at once be taken to give as much publicity as possible to these new Regulations, so that masters and officers of vessels may have ample time to become acquainted with them and with the penalties which will be incurred by disregard of them. The local Governments may adopt any measures they think proper for making the Regulations widely known; it will suffice here to state that the suggestion of Mr. Morland, Deputy Conservator and Port Officer of Bombay, that a pamphlet should be printed, illustrated by diagrams and widely circulated, commends itself to the Government of India, and arrangements should accordingly be made for carrying it into effect in each province, copies being supplied to nákhudas and tindals of native craft at a small cost. This pamphlet might contain, besides a concise statement of the description of lights required by the Regulations to be exhibited by the several classes of vessels and steamers, a few of the most useful rules of the road at sea in the vernaculars used by the seafaring section of the population, and be illustrated by coloured diagrams, so that even those who could not read would be able to derive some idea of the nature of the rules, and when in doubt solve the difficulty by reference to the diagrams. The pamphlet, containing no more than 10 or 20 pages, might be printed in foolscap octavo size, and tindals and nákhudas might be required to produce it before port clearances are granted to their vessels. The Regulations of the Board of Trade, as explained in paragraphs 2 and 3 of the Resolution of 1878, can be enforced under the existing law.

3. With regard to head III (a) (the means to be adopted to secure a proper supply of lights in all vessels), attention is invited to Chapter VI of the Indian Merchant Shipping Bill, shortly to be passed into law, under which local Governments may appoint persons to inspect ships in any port for the purpose of seeing that the same are properly provided with lights and fog signals in pursuance of the Board's Regulations for preventing collisions at sea. Under this Chapter, Customs Collectors may refuse to grant port clearances unless vessels are certified to be so provided.

4. With regard to point III (b) (the means to be adopted for securing that the commanders and officers of native craft shall possess a competent knowledge of the rules regarding the exhibition of lights and of the rule of the road at sea), it was suggested by the Government of Bombay that tindals and others in charge of native craft should be required to pass an examination in the Regulations regarding lights. Legislation would be necessary to carry out the suggestion, but the Governor General in Council is also doubtful whether the course suggested could be generally carried out in practice, seeing that the majority of the persons who would have to undergo the test are illiterate. From the documents now before the Government, it would appear that, although there is some difference of opinion, this doubt is shared by the majority of the local Governments and officers. The Government of Bombay now thinks that it would be sufficient were it simply generally made known to these persons that they are liable to punishment for disobedience of the Regulations, and if native craft were prohibited from leaving port without having a copy of them and without producing the green and red side lights they have to carry when under weigh. The Government of Bengal doubts whether native commanders of vessels below 200 tons should be required to pass an examination. The Chief Commissioner of British Burma would restrict the examination to the provisions of the Regulations pertaining to the exhibition of lights, and he would not compel persons in charge of native craft to pass in the rules of the road at sea. The Government of Madras, on the other hand, does not apparently anticipate any practical difficulty in the matter, and would have resort to legislation in view to making examinations obligatory. The question is now receiving the attentive consideration of His Excellency in Council, and orders on it will be separately issued hereafter.

5. The fourth matter relates to the means to be adopted for enforcing the Regulations regarding lights, &c., in the case of ships owned by foreign States in Asia, whether Indian or extra-Indian, or by subjects of those States. The Governor General in Council understands that the States of—are willing that the Regulations in question should substantially apply to their ships, and the revised Regulations accordingly should at once be communicated to them. Persons in charge of vessels plying under the colours of these States will thus have ample time to become familiar with the Regulations, both in theory and practice, before their introduction and enforcement under penalties from the 1st September 1880. And the Government of India also, in the meantime, will address the Secretary of State for India, in view to the promulgation by Her Majesty in Council of the necessary order for legalizing the extension, except in regard to the Omân Coast, the Chiefs of which, though not objecting to the extension of the Regulations, appear to be unable to enforce their observance.

ORDERED, that copies of this Resolution and of the Regulations issued under the Order in Council of the 14th August 1879 be forwarded to the Governments of Madras, Bombay, and Bengal, and to the Chief Commissioner of British Burma, for information and the necessary action.

Ordered, that copies of the Resolution and of the Regulations be forwarded to the Foreign Department for communication to the Native States mentioned in the last paragraph; also to the Military (Marine) Department for information.

Ordered, that the Resolution and Regulations be published in the Gazette of India.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 14th day of August 1879.

PRESENT:

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS, by "The Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862," it was enacted that on and after the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, or such later day as might be fixed for the purpose by Order in Council, the Regulations contained in the table marked C in the schedule to the said Act should come into operation and be of the same force as if they were enacted in the body of the said Act; but that Her Majesty might from time to time, on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, by Order in Council, annul or modify any of the said Regulations, or make new Regulations in addition thereto or in substitution therefor; and that any alterations in, or additions to, such Regulations made in manner aforesaid should be of the same force as the Regulations in the said schedule:

And whereas, by the same Act, it was further provided, that whenever it should be made to appear to Her Majesty that the Government of any foreign country was willing that the Regulations for preventing collisions contained in Table C in the schedule to the said Act, or such other Regulations for preventing collisions as are for the time being in force under the said Act, should apply to the ships of such country when beyond the limits of British jurisdiction, Her Majesty might, by Order in Council, direct that such Regulations should apply to the ships of the said foreign country, whether within British jurisdiction or not; and it was further provided by the said Act, that whenever an Order in Council had been issued applying any Regulation made by or in pursuance of the said Act to the ships of any foreign country, such ships should, in all cases arising in any British court, be deemed to be subject to such Regulation, and should, for the purpose of such Regulation, be treated as if they were British ships:

And whereas, by an Order in Council made in pursuance of the said recited Act, and dated the ninth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, Her Majesty was pleased to direct:—First, that the Regulations contained in the schedule to the said Act should be modified by the substitution for such Regulations of certain Regulations appended to the said Order;

Secondly, that the said Regulations appended to the said Order should, on and after the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, apply to French ships, whether within British jurisdiction or not:

And whereas, by several Orders in Council subsequently made, Her Majesty was pleased to direct that the Regulations appended to the said Order of the ninth of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, should apply to ships of the countries specified in the said Orders, whether within British jurisdiction or not:

And whereas, by Order in Council, dated the thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, Her Majesty, on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, was pleased to make certain additions to the Regulations appended to the said first-recited Order in Council, for the purpose of explaining Articles 11 and 13 of the said Regulations, and of removing doubt and misapprehension concerning the effect of the said two Articles:

And whereas the Admiralty and the Board of Trade have jointly recommended to Her Majesty, that the Regulations contained in the Order in Council dated the ninth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and the additions to the said Regulations contained in the said Order in Council of the thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, shall be annulled from the first day of September one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and that there shall be substituted for the said Regulations and additions respectively the new Regulations hereinafter set forth:

And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that the governments of the several foreign countries mentioned in the second schedule hereto are respectively willing that the Regulations contained in the first schedule hereto shall apply to ships of the said countries respectively whether within British jurisdiction or not:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in Her by the said recited Act, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to direct:—

First, that on and after the first day of September one thousand eight hundred and eighty the Regulations appended to the said Order in Council of the ninth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three and the additions to the said Regulations contained in the said Order in Council of the thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight shall be annulled, and that there shall be substituted for the said Regulations and additions respectively the new Regulations contained in the first schedule hereto.

Second, that the said Regulations contained in the said first schedule hereto shall, from and after the first day of September one thousand eight hundred and eighty, apply to ships of the countries mentioned in the said second schedule hereto whether within British jurisdiction or not.

C. L. PEEL.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

REGULATIONS FOR PREVENTING COLLISIONS AT SEA.

Preliminary.

ART. 1.—In the following rules every steam ship which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing ship; and every steam ship which is under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a ship under steam.

Rules concerning Lights.

ART. 2.—The lights mentioned in the following Articles, numbered 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, and no others, shall be carried in all weathers, from sunset to sunrise.

ART. 3.—A seagoing steam ship when under way shall carry—

(a) On or in front of the foremast, at a height above the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the ship exceeds 20 feet then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the ship, viz., from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on either side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least five miles.

(b) On the starboard side, a green light so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of ten points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the starboard side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.

(c) On the port side, a red light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.

(d) The said green and red side lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least three feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

ART. 4.—A steam ship, when towing another ship, shall, in addition to her side lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, so as to distinguish her from other steam ships. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position, as the white light which other steam ships are required to carry.

ART. 5.—A ship, whether a steam ship or a sailing ship, when employed either in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, or which from any accident is not under command, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam ships are required to carry, and, if a steam ship, in place of that light, three red lights in globular lanterns, each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart: and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, in front of but not lower than her foremast head, three black balls or shapes, each two feet in diameter.

These shapes and lights are to be taken by approaching ships as signals that the ship using them is not under command, and cannot therefore get out of the way.

The above ships when not making any way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

ART. 6.—A sailing ship under way, or being towed, shall carry the same lights as are provided by Article 3 for a steam ship under way, with the exception of the white light, which she shall never carry.

ART. 7.—Whenever, as in the case of small vessels during bad weather, the green and red side lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept on deck, on their respective sides of the vessel, ready for use: and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

ART. 8.—A ship, whether a steam ship or a sailing ship, when at anchor, shall carry, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light, in a globular lantern of not less than eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile.

ART. 9.—A pilot vessel, when engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall not carry the lights required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the mast head, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals which shall never exceed fifteen minutes.

A pilot vessel, when not engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other ships.

ART. 10. (a).—Open fishing boats and other open boats when under way shall not be obliged to carry the side lights required for other vessels; but every such boat shall in lieu thereof have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on the one side and a red glass on the other side; and on the approach of or to other vessels, such lantern shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side, nor the red light on the starboard side.

(b) A fishing vessel, and an open boat, when at anchor, shall exhibit a bright white light.

(c) A fishing vessel, when employed in drift net fishing, shall carry on one of her masts two red lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart.

(d) A trawler at work shall carry on one of her masts two lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, the upper light red, and the lower green, and shall also either carry the side lights required for other vessels or, if the side lights cannot be carried, have ready at hand the coloured lights as provided in Article 7, or a lantern with a red and a green glass as described in paragraph (a) of this Article.

(e) Fishing vessels and open boats shall not be prevented from using a flare-up in addition, if they desire to do so.

(f) The lights mentioned in this Article are substituted for those mentioned in the 12th, 13th, and 14th Articles of the Convention between France and England scheduled to the British Sea Fisheries Act, 1868.

(g) All lights required by this Article, except side lights, shall be in globular lanterns so constructed as to show all round the horizon.

ART. 11.—A ship which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned ship a white light or a flare-up light.

Sound Signals for Fog, &c.

ART. 12.—A steam ship shall be provided with a steam whistle or other efficient steam sound signal, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstructions, and with an efficient fog horn to be sounded by a bellows or other mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell. A sailing ship shall be provided with a similar fog horn and bell.

In fog, mist, or falling snow, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows; that is to say—

(a) A steam ship under way shall make with her steam whistle, or other steam sound signal, at intervals of not more than two minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b) A sailing ship under way shall make with her fog horn, at intervals of not more than two minutes, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(c) A steam ship and a sailing ship when not under way shall, at intervals of not more than two minutes, ring the bell.

Speed of Ships to be moderate in Fog, &c.

ART. 13.—Every ship, whether a sailing ship, or steam ship, shall in a fog, mist, or falling snow, go at a moderate speed.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

ART. 14.—When two sailing ships are approaching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other as follows, viz.:—

(a) A ship which is running free shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled.

(b) A ship which is close-hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c) When both are running free with the wind on different sides, the ship which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d) When both are running free with the wind on the same side, the ship which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the ship which is to leeward.

(e) A ship which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other ship.

ART. 15.—If two ships under steam are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where ships are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two ships which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

The only cases to which it does apply are, when each of the two ships is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; in other words, to cases in which, by day, each ship sees the mast of the other in a line, or nearly in a line, with her own; and by night, to cases in which each ship is in such a position as to see both the side lights of the other.

It does not apply by day to cases in which a ship sees another ahead crossing her own course; or by night, to cases where the red light of one ship is opposed to the red light of the other, or where the green light of one ship is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

ART. 16.—If two ships under steam are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the ship which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

ART. 17.—If two ships, one of which is a sailing ship, and the other a steam ship, are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam ship shall keep out of the way of the sailing ship.

ART. 18.—Every steam ship, when approaching another ship, so as to involve risk of collision, shall slacken her speed or stop and reverse, if necessary.

ART. 19.—In taking any course authorized or required by these Regulations, a steam ship under way may indicate that course to any other ship which she has in sight by the following signals on her steam whistle, viz. :—

One short blast to mean "I am directing my course to starboard."

Two short blasts to mean "I am directing my course to port."

Three short blasts to mean "I am going full speed astern."

The use of these signals is optional; but if they are used, the course of the ship must be in accordance with the signal made.

ART. 20.—Notwithstanding anything contained in any preceding Article, every ship, whether a sailing ship or steam ship, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken ship.

ART. 21.—In narrow channels every steam ship shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or midchannel which lies on the starboard side of such ship.

ART. 22.—Where by the above rules one of two ships is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course.

ART. 23.—In obeying and construing these rules due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

No ship under any circumstances, to neglect proper precautions.

ART. 24.—Nothing in these rules shall exonerate any ship, or the owner, or master, or crew thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

ART. 25.—Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule, duly made by Local Authority, relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland navigation.

Special Lights for Squadrons and Convoys.

ART. 26.—Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war or for ships sailing under convoy.

HORACE A. COCKERELL,
Secy to the Govt of Bengal.

The following Circular order is published for general information :—

Circular No. 4, dated Calcutta, the 6th February 1880.

From—A. MACKENZIE, ESQ., Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, Financial Dept.,
To—All Commissioners.

I AM directed to inform you that it has now been decided to take a general census of India in the early part of February 1881. The census is to be taken everywhere on the same day, save in a few exceptional tracts, regarding which special instructions will be given. It is thus essential that all the preliminary arrangements should be very carefully made, and that every district officer should form a clear conception of the task before him, and have all the necessary machinery in complete working order at the earliest possible date. There can be no better test of administrative ability than the manner in which a district officer carries through an operation of this kind.

2. The Government of India will probably appoint an Imperial Commissioner to supervise generally the arrangements in the different provinces. Meantime, the Inspector-General of Registration has been appointed ex-officio Deputy Superintendent of Census operations in Bengal, and all communications in connection with this matter should be addressed to him. He will practically act as an Under-Secretary to Government in respect of such correspondence. Circulars and orders issuing from his office must therefore be taken to be the orders of Government, and must meet with prompt and careful attention.

3. Each district officer is already in possession of Mr. Beverley's report on the census of 1871, and of the letter of the Government of India, No. 2, dated 20th February 1878, enclosing the report of the Committee appointed to consider the arrangements for the coming census in 1881. These reports should be carefully studied; for whatever alterations may, under the orders of the Government of India, be ultimately made in detail, they show very clearly the difficulties that have to be met, and the nature of the work that has to be done.

4. It has been practically decided to follow the recommendations of the Committee in paragraph 11 of their report, and to prepare, shortly before the day fixed for the actual synchronous census, a preliminary record of entries in the enumerator's schedules; that is to say, the enumerators will, as a general thing, before the census night, carefully fill in the schedules with all the information required in them, confining their work on the night of the census to checking and correcting these schedules so as to make them correspond with the facts as then found. (It is obvious that this preliminary record cannot be made in respect of the great floating population on the rivers of Bengal, or in respect of travellers. One of the points therefore to which special attention will have to be given hereafter is the means of securing correct synchronous registration in those cases where the preliminary record cannot be made. The point is merely noticed here in passing).

5. In order to the correct preparation of the preliminary record it is above all things necessary that the agency to be employed should be carefully organized beforehand, and that its work should be so distributed locally as to allow no part of the district population to escape enumeration. The Committee in paragraphs 34 and 45 of their report lay much stress on the accurate determination of boundaries and areas, remarking that this was a point in which the Bengal arrangements in 1871 were very defective. Much has been done since that year to remove conflicts and anomalies of jurisdiction, and it is believed that no practical difficulty should now be felt in dividing each district into circles which shall embrace the whole of the district area and no more. This is an operation which must be taken in hand at once.

6. Nearly every district has, it is understood, been supplied by the Boundary Commissioner with maps on the scale of one mile to the inch. Complete lists of the survey villages included in all thannas of the districts named on the margin have been prepared and are now either printed in the press, or nearly ready for issue. In each of these districts the district officer should at once mark off each thanna into convenient circles, each circle comprising as far as possible a definite number of survey mouzahs, so that no doubt may exist as to the precise boundaries of the circle. He should then place each such circle in charge of some member of his district staff, utilising for this purpose Assistant and Deputy Collectors, Sub-Deputy Collectors, Canungoes, Inspectors of Police, and Sub-Inspectors of Police, Rural Sub-Registrars, and any other official or quasi-official agency at his disposal. Each circle officer should be furnished with a tracing of the district map showing his circle and the neighbouring villages, and with extracts from the village lists, and he should be directed to check carefully, upon the ground, the list of villages within his circle, entering all new villages and hamlets found, including those cases where groups of houses surveyed as part of an existing village have since separately grown to be villages or tolahs with distinct names of their own, referring all such new villages and all distinct groups of houses to the survey mouza within which they are situated, noting where old villages have disappeared, entering carefully local names where these differ from the survey names, and, generally, taking care to produce a complete record of the state of things as now existing. A record should also be made of all points within the circle where boats are habitually moored, and of all places, not being houses, where travellers ordinarily seek shelter. Special note should be made of any inhabited portions of a circle liable to change from river action, so as to require fresh local enquiry after the rains.

(1)—Printed
Patna, Dacca, Bhagulpore, Durbhunga, Mozufferpore, Backergunge, Sarun, Chumparun Monghyr, Balasore, Furidpore, Nuddea, Jessore, 24 Pergunnahs, Gya, Shahabad, Purneah.

(2)—In the Press
Rajshahye Hooghly, Burdwan Bankoora, Beerbhoom, Moorshedabad, Dinagepore, Maldah Rungpore, Bogra, Pubna, Mymensing, Noakholly, Tipperah Manbhoom, Julpigoree, and Deoghur

(3)—Nearly ready
Howrah.

7. From these corrected lists village registers will eventually have to be prepared in forms that will be prescribed hereafter. It is essential, however, that every village, or separate group of houses representing a hamlet, and having a name of its own, should have a distinct number. The survey numbers of mouzas must of course be retained, but where new villages have sprung up within a mouza, or where more than one (residential) village or hamlet have been surveyed together, separate sub-numbers must be given to each. Every possible source of information, calculated to throw light on the subject, should be used by the district officers to check the village lists, especially the Land Registration and License-tax Records.

8. The number of circles in each district will vary with the size of the thannas and the agency available. The general principle to be followed should be by sub-dividing the work as much as possible to ensure close local investigation and accuracy in the final lists. In some cases it may be possible to make the circles so small that eventually the circle officer may become the chief supervisor of the enumerators working within his circle. But where this is not possible, the next duty of the circle officer will be to submit, for the approval of the district officer, a plan for the sub-division of his circle, into supervisors' sub-circles.* The sub-circles will next have to be divided into convenient enumerators' blocks. The agency to be employed as supervisors and enumerators will be as far as may be possible unpaid. The sooner these men are selected the better. Circle officers should therefore be instructed, while making their local enquiries, to ascertain what persons are qualified and willing to act as supervisors and enumerators, and should submit the names of such persons to the district officer. Instruction will be given by the Deputy Superintendent of Census hereafter as to the work to be done by them, the numbering of houses, &c., within the blocks, and other matters which will have to be attended to as the time of the census draws near. The object of the present circular is merely to start the work in each district.

* Each enumerator will eventually have to deal with from 60 to 100 houses Each supervisor should ordinarily be able to look after the preparation of the preliminary records of 10 enumerators (extra supervisors being appointed to assist on the actual day of the census).

9. The foregoing instructions refer specially to rural tracts. In municipalities no difficulties should be experienced in respect of either local areas or agency. Each municipality should, however, be instructed to prepare its plan of operations as soon as possible. The villages composing unions may for the present be treated as rural villages; but of course any special agency available in such should be fully utilized.

10. Even in districts where the thanna lists are incomplete the thanna boundaries are locally known, and village lists, more or less accurate, are in existence. The district officers of these districts must follow, as far as possible, the procedure laid down above.

11. In some districts there are tracts in which synchronous enumeration on a single day will be impossible. These tracts are recognized to be—

Parts of Chota Nagpore;
Do. of Julpigoree;
Do. of Darjeeling;
The Chittagong Hill Tracts.

In the first three instances the local area of these tracts should be divided off into circles, sub-circles, and blocks, and treated in the same way as the rest of the country. Care must be taken that the local limits of these tracts are properly determined. In the Chittagong Hills special arrangements will be necessary, suited to local circumstances.

12. Similarly, in the Orissa and Chota Nagpore Tributary States and in Hill Tipperah the census will not probably be done on one day, and will have to be managed through the Chiefs; but no time should now be lost in instructing the Chiefs how to proceed. They should be induced to follow, as far as possible, in each case the same procedure as that adopted by the officers in charge of districts.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor has in this circular (of which a copy has been sent direct to each district officer) confined himself to general instructions, in order not to anticipate any detailed orders which the Imperial Commissioner may wish to issue. The work must, however, be started at once in every part of the country; and each district officer is requested to submit direct to the Deputy Superintendent of Census within four weeks of the receipt of this circular a full and detailed report showing—

(1) The maps and village lists available for his district.
(2) His plans for subdividing the local area and testing the village lists of his district.
(3) The number of circles he intends to create in each thana and the agency that will have charge of these circles.

Fortnightly reports of progress made should follow regularly on the 15th and 30th of each succeeding month.

A copy of each of these reports should be sent by the district officer to his Commissioner.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor,

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

V.—If the net earnings of the whole calendar year exceed 4½ per cent. upon the capital cost of the railway, an additional one-half per centum, making, in such case, one per centum of the net earnings for the whole year, shall be provisionally distributed in like manner, and subject to the same conditions. Provided that the bonuses distributed among the depositors of any railway in one year or half-year shall in no case exceed the compulsory deposits on their behalf during the same period.

VI.—If the bonus calculated under Rule IV appears to the Government in any case insufficient, the Government of India will deal with the case specially according to its discretion; but subject always to the proviso in Rule V.

VII.—Any bonus accruing to a depositor under Rule IV, V or VI shall be added, provisionally, to his deposits; but such bonuses and all interest provisionally accruing thereon, shall be shewn in a separate column in his deposit-book, and shall be subject to the condition prescribed in Rule XIV.

VIII.—A servant may, at his discretion, make other deposits in the Savings Bank besides the compulsory deposits made on his behalf. Such voluntary deposits and the interest accruing thereon will be entered in a separate column in the depositor's deposit-book, and held at his free disposal under the ordinary Government Savings Bank Rules.

IX.—Deposits shall be subject to all the rules as to interest, and to all other conditions affecting ordinary deposits in Government Savings Banks, excepting that neither deposits nor interest shall be limited to any maximum amount.

X.—Saving with the particular sanction of the Director-General of Railways, no compulsory deposit or bonus shall be withdrawn, excepting—

(i) on the decease of the depositor,
(ii) on his leaving the Public Service.
(iii) with the permission of the manager, under Rule XI.

XI.—On the manager being satisfied that the pecuniary circumstances of a depositor are such that the indulgence is absolutely necessary, the compulsory deposits of the depositor, and, if they do not suffice, his bonuses, or any part of his compulsory deposits or bonuses, may be withdrawn temporarily to pay for the passage of the depositor or any member of his family proceeding to Europe on medical certificate, or returning after such absence, or of any member of the depositor's family coming from Europe to join him.

XII.—In addition to the compulsory deductions under Rule III, the manager shall withhold from the salary of such depositor, and deposit again in the Savings Bank, one-twentieth part of any sum withdrawn under Rule XI. Such deduction shall be made whenever full salary is drawn, until the whole is refunded.

XIII.—When a Deposit Account is first opened, the depositor shall be required to record in his deposit-book under his signature, and in his own hand-writing, the names of any person or persons whom he believes to be his next-of-kin, or to whom he has bequeathed the whole or any portion of his deposits. The depositor should be invited to initial or revise this record half-yearly.

XIV.—If a depositor is dismissed from the public service, the manager may, with the sanction of the Director-General of Railways, withhold all or any part of the bonuses provisionally allotted to him with the interest accrued thereon, and pay to the depositor only the balance at his credit without such bonuses and the interest thereon.

XV.—Any bonus and interest withheld from a dismissed depositor under Rule XIV shall be distributed among the depositors of the railway on which he served, with the next bonus granted to them.
